Threshold Issues

Permit to Demolish Criteria

1. Is the building or structure of such architectural or historical interest that its removal would be to the detriment of the public interest?
2. Is the building or structure of such interest that it could be made into an historic shrine?
3. Is the building or structure of such old and unusual or uncommon design, texture, and material that it could not be reproduced or be reproduced only with great difficulty?
4. Would retention of the building or structure help preserve and protect an historic place or area of historic interest in the city?
5. Would retention of the building or structure promote the general welfare by maintaining and increasing real estate values, generating business, creating new positions, attracting tourists, students, writers, historians, artists, and artisans, attracting new residents, encouraging study and interest in American history, stimulating interest and study in architecture and design, educating citizens in American culture and heritage and making the city a more attractive and desirable place to live?
6. Would retention of the building or structure help maintain the scale and character of the neighborhood?

Permit to Demolish Criteria

"These six criteria to consider when evaluating a Permit to Demolish are not strict requirements but rather they are considerations that involve a certain degree of subjectivity on the part of the BAR and staff. While a building may "meet" one or more criteria, that alone does not preclude the BAR's ability to approve demolition however it might inform conditions of approval or foster dialogue about what the BAR and the community value."

Review Process

- September: Council hearing of appeal of Parker-Gray BAR decision to deny Permit to Demolish
- Virginia review ("Section 106") of compliance with National Historic Preservation Act
- November or December: PC/CC hearings on DSUP of redevelopment
